2004 Annual Christmas Ball – The Nostalgic 60's

Over 360 Lasallians and their loved ones gathered together at The Hong Kong Convention and Exhibition Centre on 3rd of December 2004 to celebrate Christmas in the 2004 Annual LSCOPA Christmas Ball. Tickets were sold out well in advance and the event was very well received. With the extended support from the old boys and friends of La Salle, the Ball raised over $130k for the School Improvement Project (SIP).

As if the clock were wound back to the 60's, the seductive Qi-Pao (Cheng-Sam) and silhouette Tuxedo reappeared once again over the neon-lit background of the Hong Kong skyline, the scene echoed the display of the 18th and 19th century Art Collectibles (replicates) donated by S.C. Tam ('68) during the pre-dinner cocktail session.

After the welcome speeches by the Ball Chairman, Willie Wong ('84), the President, Dr. Bernard Kong ('76) and the Principal, Dr. Paul Lau ('68), Rev. Brother Thomas Lavin led the crowd a prayer by thanking our dear Lord and our Patron St John Baptist de La Salle.

The party soon commenced by a table prize game, thanks to our generous sponsors, every guest was able to take home some nice gifts for personal pleasure. Along side the delicate gourmet and fine vintage, the Heritage Team played a presentation on the flower-powered decade with special selected tunes from the 60's on the background, all the songs were taken from the private collection from Peter Kam ('77).

After much discussion on the alumni credit card over the years, the dream finally came true in the Christmas Ball. Partnering with Wing Hang Bank, a full range of LSCOPA VISA cards were rolled out, the response was overwhelming with over 100 applications on the spot. There was also a Lucky Credit Card Numbers Auction. After subsequent rounds of heated bidding, Mr. Abraham Chan ('77), Mr. Charles Chan ('77) and Dr. Jimmy Wong ('79) beat their opponents and won the luckiest numbers. I am sure these very special cards will bring the gentlemen fortunes as well as hefty contributions to the welfare of the Association with their spending on the credit cards.

Carrying on the momentum of the LSCOPA Visa Card auction, the result of the Art Collectibles Auction was simply outstanding. With more than 20 shows of hand, the 33 pieces of old Victoria Harbour artworks (replicates) finally went home with a dedicated Lasallian parent, Mr. Francis Choi. The proceeds of $88,000 will be donated to the La Salle Foundation (LSF), in which the fund will be used in the School Improvement Programme (SIP).

On the entertainment side, our own young singer-song writer Pong Nan ('95) warmed up the crowd by kicking off a few 60's English oldies followed by his masterpiece in Chinese. Pong should be no stranger to young Lasallians as his original songs are very popular and many of them were nominated for local music awards.

Unit 17, a semi-professional rock band consisted of ex-members of the two very famous Lasallian rock bands in the 60's, The Mystics and The Astronotes, brought the evening back to the good old days of live band performance. Those senior old boys should be very familiar with legends of the 60's - Sam Poon ('64), Vasco Da Costa ('68) and Clifford Yim ('70). Another "young" Lasallian, Jackie Liu ('83) is also part of Unit 17, along with six other professional and amateur members. For those who did not attend the Ball, what you missed out was the first hand experience of how real music was played and how cool these senior old boys were.

The evening was brought to the pinnacle when the Astronaut - Philip Chan ('65), the lead singer of The Astronotes joined Unit 17 for a special guest performance. As a salute to the Irish Brothers and our guests from Ireland - Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Fenton (nephews of Brother Herman Fenton), Philip sang an Irish song, Danny Boy. The crowd went crazy and couples soon put on their dancing shoes. Our new Principal, Dr. Paul Lau ('68), also joined in and gave us a lesson on classical harmonica with a piece of music written by late Uncle James Wong ('58).

There was also a remembrance section specially dedicated to late Uncle James Wong. Andrew Wong ('88), the Master of Ceremony, put together a presentation on the life of James with the background music performed live by Ernie Corpus ('73). The air was filled with silence, not sadness, as images of James' big smile were all with us. Perhaps you should know that Uncle James also contributed to the happening of the event, his son Johan Wong ('85) was the chief designer of the pretty well received Programme Booklet as well as other marketing and communications collaterals.

The Ball was concluded by both the Chinese (writing by Uncle James Wong) and English versions of the School Song. With the influence of upbeat music and fine vintages, non-stop dancing carried on until midnight.

All in all, the Annual Christmas Ball was a successful one and achieved its objectives; my sincere thanks go to the working members and especially, the loyal patrons and sponsors. I look forward to seeing you in the Ball again in 2005.

VISA card

After months of preparation the LSCOPA Visa Card was rolled out in December 2004. The signing ceremony took place at our Christmas Ball on 3rd December 2004 where many old boys and guests witnessed the launch of this credit card which was specially designed for every Lasallian.

Special privileges of this credit card include preapproved application, perpetual annual fee waiver, welcome gift and cash rebate for every retail purchase made with the card. For every successful application of LSCOPA Visa Card, the card issuing bank (Wing Hang Bank) will donate HK$150 to LSCOPA. What's more, everytime you make a purchase with your card, Wing Hang Bank will donate 0.30% of the total spending to LSCOPA. You can also make either a one-time or monthly donation to LSCOPA on the card by filling out the respective section on the application form. All donation will be used to support student scholarship, school development programmes

Dr Bernard Kong, President, LSCOPA, together with Mr Peter Leung, Head of Card Business Department, Wing Hang Bank, presented the first LSCOPA Visa Platinum Card to Br. Thomas, Supervisor of LSC and the first Gold Card to Dr. Paul Law, Principal of LSC.

Career Fortnight

For the third year in a row, a group of enthusiastic old boys participated in the Career Fortnight which was held during lunch time of 4th-14th October 2004. This year, 24 old boys of 19 professions or industries shared with the students some insights on the future and pathway to their desired careers.

With the emphasis on "sharing", of our speakers started off by giving a brief introduction of their areas and then invited the students to ask questions. Both our knowledgeable speakers and the students concurred this interactive atmosphere yield the best relevance to the needs of the students.

What started off as an unstructured career talks for the students has now become a major and one of the most anticipated events from the students.

Special thanks must be given to, in order of participating the event, Dr. Ernest Foo ('81), Mr. Rodney Chu ('80), Mr. Freddie Chui ('87), Mr. Eric Pang ('87), Mr. Joseph Liu ('94), Mr. Clement Tam ('94), Mr. Christopher Ng ('87), Mr. Leung Yat Lai ('96), Mr. Davis Leung ('78), Mr. Thomas Wong ('77), Mr. Samuel Chu ('77), Mr. James Chau ('78), Mr. Lester Haung ('77), Mr. Wesley Wong ('87), Mr. Arthur Lee ('78), Mr. David Wang ('87), Mr. Tommy Wu ('87), Dr. Arthur Cheng ('98), Dr. Bernard Kong ('76), Dr. Joseph Lee ('87), Dr. Gordon Fong ('76) and Mr. Samuel Wong ('80)

Sports Report

Our mighty badminton team once again reached at the brink of getting the first BACK-TO-BACK Grand Slam in Kowloon: On 3rd December 2004 our A and C grades team defeated DBS and claimed the grade championships as well as the Overall Championship.

As for the B grade match, DBS forced us in a 2-2 tie by the time the booking of the badminton courts was up at 6:00pm. To avoid being distracted by more unforeseen circumstances, both teams agreed to finish their last single match on 5th January 2005. Thanks God, we made it. We hit the Grand Slam!

Our teams in other racket games did not let us down: The squash team won the Overall Champion for the 11th year in a row without losing one set. The table-tennis team wrapped up the 2/3 Grand Slam by capturing A and B grade Championships. Our tennis team kept performing steadily and lost just one match to DBS so far and an overall standing at the 2nd place is expected.

This year, the swimming team remained competitive despite the ex-captain, Yee Hoi Ping ('02) left for CUHK. We kept the overall 1st Runners-up title with 3 gold medals from C grade, including the one from 4x50m relay. The same group of swimmers held overall 2nd in lifesaving too.

On other battlefield, the cross country boys shared the Overall Championship with DBS again. Ricco Chan (5G) won his first ever A grade individual champion while the C grade individual squash champion, Nelson Chan (F.2), finished the C grade race as the 3rd. Let's hope we shall be sole winner of the Championship next year! The fencing team remained 2nd in overall standing and retained epee team championship for yet another year. Next year, as the points from the sabre team will be counted towards the Overall Championship, we hope the Master of all OB coaches, Mr. John Tsang ('68), would come back to give the boys a few lessons since we have no sabre team currently. Meanwhile, the handball boys have started to win some games in both A and B grades.

The Three Big Balls, Football, Basketball, and Volleyball teams did not have a good start this year. Being the reigning A grade Champion, the senior soccer team suffered an unexpected loss to CGH which cost them out of the Semi-finals and ranked only the 5th in overall standing. The A grade basketball team dropped one position from last year and ended up with a disappointed 6th. For volleyball, both A and B grade teams finished out of top 5 and we are struggling in the relegation zone before the C grade matches commence in January 2005. Nevertheless, there are good news from B grades: the B grade football team secured the 2nd Runners-up position and the B grade basketball team has captured the Championship after arch-rival Ying Wa lost the last two matches. In all, we are still the overall title contender of both football and basketball at this moment.

FBI & Real Estate Network joint function

30 old boys turned up for a luncheon jointly organized by the Finance Banking and Insurance (FBI) Network and the Real Estate Network on 26th November 2004.

Guest speakers were Mr. Tony Tsui ('70) (Senior Vice President / General Manager of United Commercial Bank) and Mr. Edmond Lau ('69) (Senior Vice President - Agency Development of MassMutual Asia Ltd). With just a few words of wisdom from them, all attended had saved hundred of hours researching on career developments towards identifying market potentials and strategic planning. The presence of George Ko ('55), Lincoln Linn ('55) and Dicky Yue ('55) who flew all the way from Las Vegas to HK, added much flavour to the luncheon.

Many thanks to the organizers – Mr Sunny Poon ('88) and Mr Philip Yeung('93).

Community service to St. James Settlement Elderly Centre

La Salle College and LSCOPA brought a lot of joy to the community hall in Causeway Bay. The students spent two solid hours entertaining the elders on the morning of 13th November 2004. The talented group played Chinese music, violin and sang for the old folks. More than 200 seniors attended and we shared the stage with the retired senior volunteer group as performers.

Special thanks to old boy teacher Mr. Jim Sin ('78) and Mr. David Fung ('82), senior manager of St James Settlement. They helped in arranging this meaningful event. LSCOPA arranged gifts for the senior citizens and they were very delighted that LSC paid importance in social awareness.

Young Member section (YMS) Lunch

A lunch among young members was held on 17th November 2004 in Central. We were honoured to have Dr George Ching ('71) and Mr Matthew Lee ('80) as our guests on that day. Plan for Young Member Section in the coming year was forged during the lunch meeting. Please watch out for announcement of YMS activities.

Uncle James' Memorial Mass

The Memorial Mass for Senior James Wong was held on 8th December 2004 at LSC. Much as it was a sad occasion, it was also warm and homey. The Mass was celebrated by Fr. Baptista Marciano S.J. ('58), classmate and life long friend of James. I guess there were about 350-400 old boys present, from the seniors of the 50s and 60s, classmates of James, to our young siblings from the 90s and some 00s. Many old boys came with their spouses too. James' younger brother and two sons, all old boys of LSC, were also present. Gladly absent were the media: obtrusive photographers and tabloid journal reporters sticking camera lens and microphones at people.

It was very much a family gathering of our own, at home, to remember and pray for Senior James, to share stories, memories and feelings, to sing the School Song of which James gave us the Chinese lyrics, to see a videoed interview of him by some students a few years ago, to support each other and to support "Uncle" James' family. (I used to call Senior James "Uncle" when I went to his home to play with his son Johan.)

Funnily, like many great men's work of art turning famous after they pass away, Uncle James' Chinese School Song has begun to find a place in my heart. I frankly didn't like it much when I first encountered it: too proud and brassy, I thought. Then I read much more about Uncle James after his passing away, his ways, his thoughts and his genuineness to himself and to those around him, I began to understand this man, and his lyrics a little more.

An Old Boy aptly wrote on the Old Boy's website chatboard (excerpted):
 靈學長玩世不恭之狂、放、浪、蕩，
 行事為人之志、誠、勇、毅
 實不折不扣之喇沙仔寫照

Reflecting on a line of one of his compositions: "我仍然能夠 講一聲我係我" ("I am who I am"), wasn't Uncle James offering a portrait of himself in the Chinese lyrics he gave us? And isn't he telling us to live truthfully to ourselves? And don't we see the spirit of the Chinese School Song weaved closely with our school motto of "Faith and Works"?

I have attended many memorial services, but for this one, I felt an intense yet comforting warmth. A warmth that came from the thought that there were so many Old Boys to offer prayers and to say fare-well to Uncle James. It was simply good to be there, remembering a great one of ours.

Rest in Peace, Uncle James. Thanks for all you have given us, and your brothers in La Salle will always remember you.

*"I have fought the good fight,
 I have finished the race,
 I have kept the faith."

Peer Counseling Scheme BBQ wit the Class 66

The night was full of smiles. The Class 66 came to support the Peer-Counseling Scheme in school. There are 50 students with equal number of counselors (F6) and receivers (F3) of the program. A number of the "Tai Si-hings" have never been back to LSC since graduation and it was a very touching moment. A number of them travelled all the way from US just for the reunion. They started off with a friendly match with a team of young Lasallians (20 years younger than them) and won by 4-2. The legendary Ip Sheng Wah, Ho Sai Lai, Fung Fo Keung were all there on the field recapturing the glorious day back in school in the 60s. After a short tour round the school, they were ready to enjoy the BBQ with the peer counseling students and teachers. Action never stopped and in the large lecture theatre, Dr Paul Lau, Mr. Joseph Chung and myself officiated the Peer Counseling Scheme and we encouraged the students to voice out their concerns and should never be afraid to ask for help.

The families of Class 66 came to support the function as well. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Chan, Mr. Peter Tse came to celebrate the home coming of the Class 66. Bro Thomas gave a short speech. Bro. Lawrence and Br. Mark came down for a chat and a drink. Mrs. Lawrence Chan actually sang our school song by heart! We sang our school song with faith and zeal two times with the current students.

Dr Andrew Mok from Montreal gave permission for LSCOBA to use the orchestral version of the school song performed by Montreal Chamber Orchestra. This was the first time this piece of music was played in La Salle College. It was a very enjoyable night. We hope other classes can support LSCOBA and the students the way as the "Mighty 66" have done. OBA is indebted to their full support and love of our Alma Mater.

The students fully appreciated our effort and they surrounded the "Si-hing" with excitement and strong feeling of brotherhood. I heard that the Class 66 still maintained very close tie with the students after the BBQ.

Oxfam Trailwalk 2004 –

The Oxfam Trailwalker is a fund raising event for Oxfam. Teams of fours must finish the 100km MacLehose Trail (麥理浩徑) within 48 hours.

The first-ever Old Boys' Trailwalker Team was planned when I met Eddie Yip ('80), our cross-country team's trainer, at the Old Boys' Spring Dinner last year. With the help of Eddie and Stephen Woo ('85), a frequent participant of the Trailwalker, a team of four was formed. The members were Tommy Wu ('87), Kenneth Sung ('87), Raymond Kwan ('87) and Raymond Chung ('97). The team started training last summer. Pledge for donation also started.

During application phase, we totally handed in 6 applications but were all rejected! After painstaking negotiation with Oxfam, we finally managed to get a place (Team 493 with team name LSCOBA).

Eddie planned to complete the 100km in 30 hours 25 minutes. The average speed was 3.3 km per hour as 3 out of the 4 members were new to the event. On Day One, 5th November, we started our trip at 11 am. We finished sections 1 & 2 in 5 hours 45 minutes, which was ahead of schedule by 1 hour. There came the 9.4-km section 3, Kai Kung Shan (雞公山), known to trailwalkers as the toughest section of the race. Kwan started 'breaking down' on the last 1 km to the peak of Kai Kung Shan, which required a climb of 200 feet. Kwan strived on with us despite a strain in his right thigh, through Ma On Shan and still managed to complete section 4. However, in order to avoid serious injury, Kwan decided to pull out after completing 47.4 km at check point 4, the Boys Scout Gilwell Campsite (飛鵝山基維爾營地). With much hardship and willpower, the rest of the team completed the trail. The total time was 30 hours 38 minutes, just slightly slower than we planned. It was a very memorial journey for us. Our team raised more than $30000 for Oxfam and our team paid for all the expenses. Thank you so much in supporting our team, who were all Lasallians:

Memorial Mass of Brother Michael

In memory of Brother Michael Curtin FSC who passed away in St. Teresa's Hospital on 25th November 1983, a Memorial Mass was held in the School Chapel on 25th November 2004. The Mass was attended by old boys, current teachers, students and Christian Brothers. Brother Michael had been the Career Master of the College and Editor of the School Magazine for decades. He was well loved by his students and was awarded MBE (Member of the British Empire) by the Hong Kong Government for his commitment and great contribution to the education of youths in Hong Kong. He is well remembered by many grateful students who have learnt from him during their student days' in La Salle College.

HAPPY VALLEY GRAVEYARD VISIT

As a tradition, on 27th November 2004, the OBA organized the Annual Graveyard Visit to pay respect to our departed Christian Brothers in Hong Kong. Without their hard work and dedication, we would not enjoy the success we have today.

The memorial mass started at 4 pm in the Cemetery Chapel, celebrated by Father Jose, Chaplain of LSC. Brother Thomas Lavin, Brother Mark Blake, Brother Alphonsus Chee, Dr Paul Lau, Dr Bernard Kong were present, together with old boys in Hong Kong and from overseas, teachers and students.

The ceremony ended with afternoon tea in a club house at Happy Valley at 6 pm.

Reported by Leung Wah Cheong, Michael ('63)

We tidied up the graveyards of the Christian Brothers, which were again blessed by the priest. We then visited the graveyards of departed bishops, priests and friends in the cemetery.

SIP Walkathon 2004

That was a bright sunny day. The walkathon was chosen to be the kick off ceremony of the "SIP" fund raising campaign. The Old Boys' Association took on the lead and arranged this meaningful event. There were more than 600 participants that day with helpers from OBA, LSC-PTA, LSPS-PTA, teachers, scouts, St John Ambulance and the Student Association. It was more like a La Sallian Family event and we packed the Sai Kung Pak Tam Chung country park with plenty of fun and laughter.

Brother Patrick, Brother Thomas, Dr. Paul Lau, Mrs. Elizabeth Pau and Mr. Nicholas Ng officiated the kick off. All along the way, there were helpers to guide and ensure a safe journey. We set up a temporary headquarters to coordinate the whole event and it went smoothly. The La Salle Foundation prepared special La Sallian caps to commemorate the SIP program and we all proudly wore our distinguished white or blue caps with the school's emblem. It is a rare occasion for the whole Family to enjoy a relaxing event outdoor and we all treasured our moments together. Imagine all different generations of La Salle boys were there as a group.

That night, we went to the Sai Kung town center to enjoy a buffet dinner next to the waterfront. Everyone fully enjoyed the experience and brought home with fond memories

The Walkathon 2004 generated more than a quarter of a million towards the SIP. It was good fun, enjoyable and memorable. We are looking forward to the walkathon 2005. I can ensure you that it will be better than ever. Surely hope you will be join us again.
